

CHRISTOPHER CARTER'S VIRTUAL MIND GAMES:

MIND READING AND MAGIC IN YOUR EMPLOYEES OR MEMBERS' HOMES

CHRISTOPHER CARTER

Make your people feel connected by treating them and their families to an interactive, online show of mind-reading and magic.

Organizations and corporations throughout the country are struggling to make their people feel connected, engaged, and appreciated. Mentalist and illusionist Christopher Carter has the solution.

Treat your team to a customized, interactive show live-streamed to them via Zoom. They and their families can watch AND participate via their laptops, pc's, or tablets. It's the perfect way to build employee and membership morale regardless of how far apart they might be.

The key word is PARTICIPATE.

This isn't just a television show, this is an interactive experience in which they get to be stars. Christopher works with "virtual" volunteers, reading their minds, guiding their thoughts, and involving them in astonishing magical illusions. Everyone in the viewing audience will have their minds read, experience jaw dropping illusions, learn a few astonishing tricks they can use to amaze their friends, and have a welcome break from the stresses of social isolation.

Christopher's "Virtual Mind Games" is as close to being there in person as it's possible to get. Streamed with studio quality equipment, it's like attending a live stage show on your own computer.

Christopher Carter has gotten rave reviews from corporations and organizations on three continents, and he has presented to over 3000 audiences. Book him today to help you engage your audience, motivate your team, or connect with your members!
